About the Film:

"Featuring one of the most exquisite collections of collaborators seen on a music project which includes everyone from Noam Chomsky to Eckhart Tolle, Tim Robbins and Billy Connolly to REM's Michael Stipe, What About Me? is the culmination of four years work by Duncan Bridgeman and Jamie Catto, the founding member of Faithless. Following the success of their first critically acclaimed film and album, 1 Giant Leap, the pair travelled the globe stopping off at 50 different locations to collect words of wisdom and musical jewels from the various participants. They then lovingly pieced them together into the TV and Film mosaic that is What About Me?."
